Dear Sir, Madam,

With reference to Article 36 of the Dutch Data Protection Act (Wet bescherming persoonsgegevens) I kindly but urgently request you to remove the following specific historical pages with personal data relating to me from the Internet archive.
[Controleer de oudere versies van de gewraakte pagina's met uw persoonsgegevens in het internetarchief en gebruik dit invulformulier voor alle pagina's die volgens u onrechtmatig in het internetarchief zijn opgenomen]

I have contacted the controller of this publication before, and at my urgent request, he/she has removed the personal information relating to me from the website, because the data were:
[Maak een keus in 1 van de 5 genoemde redenen]
-factually inaccurate
-incomplete
-irrelevant to the purpose or purposes of the processing
-being processed in any other way which infringes a legal provision
-published based on permission, and I have withdrawn my permission.

You can verify the removal of my personal data at the following website address:
[geef de URL van de website waarvan de gegevens over u inmiddels zijn verwijderd of geblokkeerd]

I am aware of your policy to respect a no robots.txt on publications. However, in this case it is not an option for me to ask the data controller of the original publication to shield all information on the publication from possible indexation by the archive. I have a strong interest in the immediate removal of these personal data from the Internet and cannot wait for half a year or longer for your robots to revisit the publication.

Since my personal data have been removed from the original publication for good reasons and now that I have provided you with this notification of the unmistakable unlawfulness of the continued publication of these personal data, it is an unlawful act (tort) to continue to publish them.

For more information I refer you to the document “Guidelines for the Publication of Personal Data on the Internet”, as published by the Dutch Data Protection Authority (College bescherming persoonsgegevens).
I trust this letter has provided you with sufficient information to act as requested and remove the above mentioned pages from the Internet Archive.

Please let me know within two weeks whether you have processed my request. If not, I reserve the right to take further steps.

Finally, I do not give you permission to distribute this letter or process any personal data from this letter for any other purpose than acting upon this request to remove them from the Archive.

Yours sincerely,
